Re: Vasadi Contracting

Please feel free and comfortable to move forward with Vasadi as a candidate for any home repair/remodeling project.

Our involvement with Jim was during the 2002-2003 year; our home is an 1800's structure, and Jim went above and beyond to make certain the work fit the home. His ethic is unmatched in terms of information and energy. His dedication to finish the project with excellence never took second priority. His dedication to keep the job within budget was always clear, and any time there was issue with quality vs. budget, Jim provided clear information and options. In summary, he is the best contractor we have ever had the pleasure to do business with.
