To Whom It May Concern:

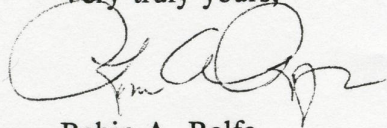

I am pleased to recommend without reservation or qualification the work of Jim Vasadi both as a contractor and as a carpenter. He is a wholly reliable businessman and a highly skilled tradesman.

Mr. Vasadi first provided services to me during an extensive renovation of my condominium in 1993. He was a great help in selecting appropriate materials as well as in the construction. Beyond that he was showed creativity and initiative in the job, including the design of additional cabinets above the existing kitchen cabinets, an oak stairway bannister and the layout of a hardwood floor, and he always left the premises neat and cleaned-up. Mr. Vasadi was exceptionally thoughtful and considerate at all times and in all respects.

More than a year after completion of the job, I had a problem that was not related to the construction but resulted in a flood in one of the renovated rooms. Not knowing what else to do, I called Mr. Vasadi for help. He took time out from the job on which he was working to diagnose the problem and provide immediate relief and then returned as soon as his schedule permitted to repair the damage. His craftsmanship eliminated the water problem and avoided the need to refinish the entire room.

I would be happy to answer any further questions about my experience with the quality of Jim Vasadi's work or business style. But be assured there is really not more to add. Such high praise is entirely deserved.

Very truly yours,

Robin A. Rolfe
