

To Whom It May Concern,

Jim Vasadi has done extensive renovation in my home.
He has made a usually unbearable interruption in ones privacy livable.

Jim is an organized and disciplined craftsman. The workman ship he has displayed is suburb. His ability to foresee possible problems, create a "way around" has enabled me to tackle renovations that I normally would have shunned.

Jim has done extensive tiling, cabinetry and wood working in our home. He has always been responsible to keep within the working budget, and if there is to be a change we were made fully aware of the additions before they were begun. My home was always left in order after each days work. All carpets and furniture in the working areas were covered and there was no damage done anywhere. This was a daily process through out the nine weeks of renovation.

I also appreciated an itinerary of the project being performed. This allowed me to follow the progress without wondering what was to be done next.
Jim was a pleasure to work with, I can give anyone my highest recommendation with regard to his integrity and work ethic.
